

“CLINICAL CHILD AND ADOLESCENT PSYCHOLOGY WITH A DEVELOPMENTAL FOCUS” MASTER’S PROGRAM AIMS-OUTCOMES CONNECTIVITY MATRIX

		PROGRAM AIMS
		To develop excellent knowledge and skills of assessment, prevention and intervention in clinical child and adolescent psychology	Building of advance research knowledge and skills to conduct research using a life span development approach in clinical child and adolescent psychology	Promoting the critical and creative thinking, working in cooperation, and a multidimensional approach towards the issues and cases in the field	To gain a perspective based on universal human rights, ethic codes and social sensitivity in order to function in the field.
PROGRAM OUTCOMES	recognize the context, process and characteristics of the normal development in children and adolescents.
	differentiate the characteristics of normal development from that of abnormal/atypical development explain and analyze mental health problems and psychopathology of children and adolescents within a developmental framework apply clinical assessment techniques directed to children and adolescents apply basic clinical interview principles and skills when working with children, adolescents and their families.
	provide psychotherapy to children and adolescents follow scientific developments in the field of clinical child and adolescents psychology design and conduct longitudinal and qualified scientific research with a developmental focus in the field of clinical child and adolescent psychology.
	present the results of a scientific research to the national and international audience take professional and ethical responsibility while conducting research and doing practice work engage in lifelong learning				